L'ARBALÈTE

Building on its twelve years of experience in bringing together companies that supply the military's Special Forces and the special units of the police and the National Gendarmerie, the Cercle has taken the initiative to replicate this model for the defense digital sector by establishing a Defense and Digital College within its ranks. The college aims to bring together companies and higher education and research institutions in the digital sector. It is organizing its first major event, called the "Digital Defense Network Seminar," abbreviated as "D2NS."

The goal of this event is to bring together the key players in the digital sector at the European level in one place, with strong representation from French companies and organizations in the sector.

The event will also bring together the various departments of the CND, as well as the teams responsible for digital affairs within French ministries and institutions. This convergence of public and private actors will foster dialogue, the development of partnerships, and the sharing of strategic challenges related to digital transformation.
